

desert odyssey on camino de invierno

(first passage) ~October 21-31, 2025

Embark on a life-transforming journey of 129 kilometers with a small group of fellow peregrinos (pilgrims) on the Camino Invierno or the Winter Way.

The Camino de Invierno is the latest route on the Camino Santiago to be recognized as an official route. It is used primarily in the winter months though is walkable throughout the year. Given its relative newness, it provides a greater measure of solitude on the camino. This route also offers one of the most scenic approaches into Santiago, passing through the last remaining ancient pilgrim gate.

"I went to the woods [on the Camino Santiago] because I wished to live deliberately. To front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived." ~ Henry David Thoreau

A map of the route is below. Closer to the date of your Camino, the final route will be determined based on logistics, weather, amenities and other factors. Walking distances are based on a walking speed of about 4km/hour. Average temperature in October is between 12°C and 20°C; low rain season; 12 hours of daylight

An indicative schedule of the first and last two days is shown below.

Each Camino group is limited to a maximum of 7 peregrinos, based on a first-registered-first-confirmed basis.
